EVERY DROP COUNTS!

Don't watch your profits drive away

With possibly thousands of litres of fuel being sold on your forecourt each day, inaccurate fuel dispensers could be costing you thousands of pounds each year. Don't just rely on your scheduled visit from your maintenance company to re-assure you that your fuel dispensers are performing accurately.

Fuel dispenser nozzle tests often show up potential problems with dispensers before they happen and may also detect potential leaks in the system, which could go undetected due to under-dispensing at the nozzle.

Just a simple weekly check could save you thousands of pounds every year.
